Name: _____

Quality school leadership occurs when the school leader’s ongoing analysis of the context, and the school leader’s decisions about what leadership knowledge and abilities to apply, result in quality teaching and optimum learning for all students in the school.

The School Leader Standard applies to all school leaders employed by a school authority.

Principals are accountable for the demonstration of all the competencies. Assistant principals, associate principals, vice principals, and other identified teachers with leadership designations are accountable for the demonstration of competencies directly related to their assigned role and leadership designation.
